Read the following passage carefully, then answer the questions that follow:

Sara was getting ready for her birthday party. Every year her mum and her sister make a chocolate cake, but this year it was different. “Sara, I think you’re old enough to bake the cake yourself.” Said the mother. The mother told Sara that grandmother told her once that baking is just a little sugar and a little oil.

The mother left Sara alone in the kitchen. First, Sara measured the ingredients and poured them into a big bowl. Then, She carefully mixed it until it was perfectly smooth. Finally, she poured the mixture into the cake pan. Her mom came to turn on the oven. When the cake came out, something looked wrong. Sara tried to cut the cake with a knife, but the knife wouldn’t go through easily. The cake was as hard as a rock!

Sara was thinking what she did wrong! Sara said: “I measured the baking soda exactly!”. Suddenly, Sara remembered that she measured the baking soda, but she forgot to add it in the bowl.

The mother was so proud of her for trying to do something new. Then, she helped Sara to make a new cake for the birthday and this time it was a perfect chocolate cake.
