B: Reading Comprehension (16 marks)

Read the following text carefully, then answer the questions below:

Some neighbourhoods have garage sales, but in our neighbourhood, we have a stuff swap. On the first Saturday in August, everyone brings all the stuff they don't want any more to the little park that is right in the middle of the neighbourhood. All neighbours use portable plastic tables to showcase what they want to swap with others. It has to be good stuff that other people might want – not just broken stuff or garbage. People bring clothes, toys, games, dishes, and all kinds of other stuff. Then we all go shopping. No one has to pay for anything. Last year, I brought some books and games that I was too old for, and some clothes that I had outgrown.

I got some other books, a baseball mitt, and a big box of LEGOs. My mother got new baking pans, decorated towels and colorful paper holders. She also bought a remotecontrol holder for dad because he always loses the remote while watching a football match. My brother found some sports-related wall hangings for his bedroom. At the end of the day, we all help to put everything that is left into boxes and bags to donate to charity. In my opinion, this is way better than the garage sale because all neighbours get to connect with each other selflessly especially when they don't have enough money to buy new things they need.
