A monkey is an animal which lives mainly on trees; it often comes on the land to look for food. Monkeys are found in most parts of Asia, Africa, and America. Some monkeys are big and strong like gorillas and some others are small. A monkey eats plants, fruits and vegetables. Monkeys live a minimum of fifteen years to a maximum of thirty years if they live in a jungle. They live in big groups like families. The mother monkey looks after her babies.

Monkeys have hair on their skin. They have two big ears on the sides of their heads. A monkey has four long legs and a tail which can catch or hold anything. Monkeys can easily climb on a tree, swing, and jump. They like jumping for fun. They are intelligent and funny animals. They quickly copy what a person is doing. We can see them at the zoo.
