Lots of people enjoy the benefits of online shopping. You don't have to sit in traffic jams or wait at bus stops or train stations. Because online stores are open 24 hours, you can sit at your computer and shop at your leisure. And you don't have to collect your product because they deliver it right to your door.

But shopping online isn't all great - you need to be very careful. First, you must use a secure connection. Look at the start of the website address. If this starts with 'https', there is a secure connection because the letter 's' means 'secure'.

Only shop on sites that offer secure payment methods. This gives you protection in a situation where you and the shop disagree. Banks usually contact you if they think something is wrong. It is also important to create a strong password. It's usually a good idea to change your passwords every few months, just in case someone finds out what they are. Also, try to use a different password for different online shopping sites: once someone guesses one password, they can get access to everything you do online.

Finally, check other customers' comments. They can explain everything about the product. Always check the seller's history when using online sites. If you are not sure about a product, you can always send the seller a question and the good sellers will reply fairly quickly.
