B) Reading Comprehension (16 Marks)

Read the following passage, then answer the questions that follow.

Iceland is a small island country in the North Atlantic Ocean. It is often called "The Land of Fire and Ice" because of its many volcanoes and ice-covered mountains. Although its name is Iceland, much of the land is green, especially in summer. The country got its name from the early people who lived there a long time ago.

Iceland has a population of about 400,000 people, which is smaller than many cities around the world. The capital of Iceland is Reykjavík, which is also the country's largest city. Most of the people in Iceland live in or near the capital city, while the rest live in other parts of the country. The city is famous for its colourful houses, modern culture, and friendly people.

Iceland has many great treasures. Lots of tourists visit Iceland in winter to see springs shooting hot water into the air, huge waterfalls, and the northern lights. Such scenes paint the sky with green and purple colours. Visitors also enjoy relaxing in a natural spring which is called the Blue Lagoon.

Iceland is known for its clean energy. In Iceland, people never do anything to harm environment, such as using electricity that depends on petrol. Most of the electricity comes from natural energy resources, such as water power. This makes the country one of the greenest in the world. Although Iceland is a small country, it is full of beauty, adventure and unique natural wonders.
